“How A Terribly Introverted Kid From Sri Lanka Stumbled Upon The Secret To Consistently Dating Beautiful Women...Without Ever Stepping Foot In A Bar Or Nightclub!”

Learn how to MULTIPLY your success with women with a breakthrough strategy, released to the public for the first time ever...

Dear Friend,

If you're not enjoying the level of success with women that you want then this will be the most important letter you ever read.

Here's Why.

Over the last few years I have taught hundreds of men just like you how to take control of their dating lives, become stronger more confident men and start living life on their own terms.

But it wasn't always this way...

My name's Jeremy Soul and this is my amazing story.

I was a terribly introverted kid growing up.

Everything I've done in life since age 12 has been to try and buck that trend.

I thought that because I was a short Sri Lankan and not a terribly good looking kid I could never be good with girls.

Fast forward a few years and dating beautiful and intriguing women isn't a side interest to me.

Now...it's my whole life.

It all changed for me several years ago when I stumbled upon a group of guys who can only be described as true ladies men.

These guys had turned picking up women into a fine art.

They took me under their wing and schooled me in the skills of attraction and my life changed in ways I never would have imagined a few years earlier.

Every night we hit the clubs and bars in town approaching every gorgeous woman we could and then we'd sit down and analyse where we went right (or wrong!) and try to pinpoint how we could improve.

It is this level of commitment that separates the men from the boys.

“But Something Didn't Sit Quite Right With Me...”

Quite honestly, I found some of the techniques the guys were using a little bit manipulative (some would say creepy!).

Not only that...who wants to be out until the early hours night after night?

I still had to get up everyday for work and after a few months I was wandering round the office like a zombie.

Spending the lions share of my salary on club admissions and overpriced cocktails.

That's when it hit me.

What if I took these same techniques I had learned in the clubs and applied them to meeting girls during in the day?

But as I spent more time going out specifically in the daytime to meet women, I discovered all sorts of nuances and subtleties I hadn't expected to discover.

I started testing out new theories and concepts to figure out what worked best for dating in the daytime compared with nightclubs and bars.

I love meeting incredible women anywhere – in bars, clubs, through social circles and in the daytime – but many of the best I've met have been through daytime approaches.

And here's the kicker...women LOVE to be approached during the day.

It's a novelty for them as it doesn't happen anywhere near as often as you'd think.

You'll also find that women are a lot more friendly and open to conversation during the day than in some club or bar.

“Finally A Simple, Easy To Follow System To Dating Any Woman You Want!”

Daytime Dating is the result of all my experience and all the lessons I learned and is the exact same system I teach to my coaching clients on a daily basis.
